How the stars have always guided navigators, I could not have undertaken this Ph.D. journey had I not been mentored and supported by the many, to whom I wish to express my heartfelt gratitude and respect:

Dr Sushila Shekhawat, my Supervisor, who has been extremely understanding and patient, has given me immense courage to pursue my goals, has always encouraged me to improve my work and has given me the freedom to explore new ideas and opportunities. She has always made sure to accommodate me and address my queries despite the busiest of schedules. Her diligent guidance has enabled me to pursue this Ph.D. and also prepare myself for future prospects. My Co-Supervisor, Dr Somdatta Bhattacharya, for guiding me through the research questions and giving her criticism and comments to enhance my work. She has been extremely supportive, considerate, and has always encouraged me to enhance my knowledge and be meticulous. My Doctoral Advisory Committee (DAC) members, Dr Virendra Singh Nirban and Dr Hari Nair for their valuable suggestions, advice and support throughout these five years. Both my DAC members have always been very understanding, kind and approachable. I am extremely grateful to Dr Nair for guiding me in my learning, supporting my academic pursuits, and whose lectures and courses have been immensely helpful in developing my thesis.

My sincerest gratitude to Prof. T. Ravichandran from Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Kanpur, for being my External Examiner and evaluating my thesis. I am very grateful for his presence at BITS Pilani, Pilani Campus to conduct my Ph.D. viva voce examination on 14th May 2022. His questions, comments and suggestions have helped me in my current work, and have also given me a direction towards future projects. I am excited to develop these new ideas and commence with the research. I look forward to working on them.

I am forever grateful and indebted to Prof. Gajendra Singh Chauhan, who has been a guardian and has anchored me through the most challenging times. I am blessed to have commenced this journey under his aegis and I attempt to imbibe his qualities of ethical and honest conduct in both professional and personal space.

To Dr Gulshan Verma, I owe a lifelong gratitude for the nurturing care and immeasurable support that enables me to undertake and persist through challenging pursuits.

I express my sincere gratitude to Prof. Malcah Efron (Massachusetts Institute of Technology), Prof. Elizabeth McMahon (UNSW Sydney) and Prof. Sheila Hones (The University of Tokyo), who have been extremely considerate and generous and have guided me with my queries related to my research. Their research contribution in the field has helped me to build my literature review.

My heartfelt gratitude to all my professors at BITS Pilani, and especially the Department of Humanities and Social Sciences, for their encouragement, and feedback and comments during the assessments. I am also fortunate to have the experience to learn from them through their lectures, working under them as their teaching assistant, or during personal interactions and conversations. I thank the Head of Department during my tenure: Prof. Chauhan, Dr Sanjiv Kumar Choudhury and Prof. Devika Sangwan, and, the Departmental Research Committee (DRC) for their support and facilitating formal processes related to my doctoral studies. I sincerely thank Dr Choudhury for giving me work experience by entrusting me with the responsibility to teach the Language Lab Practice course. I thank Prof. Sangeeta Sharma, for her invigorating motivation to nurture my interpersonal skills and maintain a work-life balance. I also take this opportunity to express my heartfelt gratitude to Prof. Gyan Singh Shekhawat for the constant support and encouragement.

I am very grateful to this Institution which has nurtured me and provided me the platform, opportunity and funding to conduct my research and hone my skills and personality. I thank our Vice-Chancellor Prof. Souvik Bhattacharyya, Director Pilani Campus Prof. Sudhirkumar Barai, Academic Graduate Studies and Research (AGSRD) Dean Prof. M. B. Srinivas, AGSRD Associate Dean Prof. Jitendra Panwar, AGSRD administration staff especially Mr Raghuv eer, Mr Mahipal and Mr Pramod Kumar Sharma, and, all the administrative staff of BITS Pilani, Pilani Campus. A smooth facilitation of this doctoral work would not have been possible without Prof. Panwar's meticulous administration, prompt actions, right guidance and just decisions. I thank the BITS Pilani Library and all its staff members, especially Librarian Mr Giridhar Kunkur and Dr Ishappa C. Bandi for helping me with the resources, and also for involving me in the library activities and events. My gratitude to the administrative staff of Department of Humanities and Social Sciences: Mr Prakash Bisht, Mr Anil, Mr Ramesh and Mr Ajeet, who have always been extremely kind and helpful. I also thank Mr Ramesh Sharma for helping me with the formatting and page layout.

These five years would not have been as pleasurable without my seniors and fellow colleagues with whom I could engage in enlightening discussions and gain insights into the diverse fields of knowledge. I thank all the research scholars, especially, Ms Aayushi Malhotra, Dr Vidhi Agrawal, and Mr Mayuresh Vijay Bhise, who have also been wonderful reliable friends.

I owe my learning and growth to all the educators who have taught me throughout my life. I am privileged to have had the opportunity to be a student of erudite personalities from excellent institutions. My humble gratitude to all, especially, Ms Anita Malhotra (former Principal DPS), Guru Jayalakshmi Eshwar (Abhinayaa Centre for Dance) and Dr V. A. Eshwar, Prof. Lakshmi Subramanyam and Prof. Harriet Raghunathan (Jesus and Mary College, University of Delhi) and Dr Vikram Singh Thakur (Ambedkar University Delhi).

To my embodiments of hard work, determination, sincerity and dedication, my father Mr K. K. Srinivasan, my mother Mrs Jolly Srinivasan, and my brother Mr Shrijit Srinivasan, gratitude will be too less. Despite so, my love, respect and gratitude to them. I thank all my family members and friends for their love and support, and I remember all the loved ones who have departed from us during these times. Lastly, Pickle, who taught me patience, perseverance, and unconditional love.

Shrija Srinivasan
