A special thanks to my husband Mr. Sunil Thalia for his unconditional love, care, sacrifice, constant support, and patience. He always encouraged me to work hard consistently without which I might not be able to successfully finish my work in time. It would have been merely a dream to finish this thesis work without his continuous support and motivation. A special thanks to my mother for her sacrifices, love and continuous support. She always stood besides me in all phases of this work without which successful completion might not be possible. I would deeply indebted to my entire family for their trust in me that made me confident enough to accomplish my work.
