

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to express my deep gratitude to Prof. Souvik Bhattacharyya, Vice Chancellor, BITS Pilani, for providing me with all the facilities and support necessary to complete the research work. I am extremely thankful to Prof. Ashoke Kumar Sarkar, Director, BITS Pilani-Pilani Campus, for his constant support and motivation. I also express my sincere gratitude to Prof. S.C. Sivasubramanian, Deputy Director (Administration), and Prof. G. Sundar, Director (Off Campus Programmes and Industry Engagement), for their support. It is my pleasant duty to thank Prof. Sanjay Kumar Verma, Dean, Academic Research Division, for providing all necessary guidelines and extending full support, crucial for the completion of this thesis.

My profound gratitude goes to my supervisor Dr. Virendra Singh Nirban, under whose guidance the research work has been carried out. I owe appreciation for his guidance, patience and support in facilitating the research work without whom the accomplishment attained would not have been possible. I have learnt how to work persistently by watching him doing the same during the whole period of the research. It is a privilege for me to work under his guidance.

I am highly thankful to Prof G. S. Chauhan (Head, Department of Humanities and Social Sciences) and the former head Prof Pushplata for their valuable suggestions and providing me with a positive work environment and spirit. I have a deep sense of admiration for Dr. Sunita Raina, Dr. Hari Nair, Dr. Devika Sangwan, Dr. Sanjeev Kumar Chaudhary, Dr. Neeraj Kumar Sachdeva, Dr. Anupam Yadav, Dr. Rajneesh Chaubisa, Dr. Somadatta Bhattacharya, Dr. Sailaja Nandigama, Dr. Kumar Shankar Bhattacharya, Dr. Dinesh Yadav, and Dr. Anil Rai, the faculty members of the HSS department for their valuable comments and feedback.

I also wish to express my sincere thanks to the members of the Doctoral Advisory Committee, Dr. Sushila Shekhawat and Dr. Tanu Shukla, for their prudent advices and insightful comments which channelized me in the right direction.

My thanks are also due to Prof. Sangeeta Sharma, the DRC convener of the department, for her encouragement and suggestions throughout the study. My special thanks go to my fellow scholars, Rajnee Singh, Swaroopa Deb, Vidhi Aggrawal, Neerja Vyas, Priyanka Shaurya and Meenakshi Sharma for creating an innovative environment inside the research scholars' room. The rounds of tea followed by healthy discussions always gave rise to new ideas and motivated me to dig deep into the already prevailing ideas.

I would like to thank Mr. Giridhar M. Kunkur, Librarian and Unit Chief, Publication and Media Relations unit, BITS, Pilani-Pilani Campus, and Deputy Librarian Mr. Ishappa Bandi for providing me with various books and online journals related to my study. I thank the technical staff of the Department of Humanities and Social Sciences, Mr. Prakash, Mr. Ramesh, and Mr. Rajesh, for their support.

My special thanks go to my teachers and colleagues Dr. Gábor Halász, Dr. Anikó Fehérvári, Dr. Éva Szabolcs, Dr. Orsolya Kálmán, Dr. Zsófia K. Takacs, Dr. Andrea Kárpáti, Helena Kovac and Taisia muzafarova in the department of Education and Psychology at Eotvos Lorand University, Budapest, for their genuine interest and valuable inputs. I am also thankful to the Tempus Public Foundation for providing the golden opportunity to me.

My heartfelt thanks are extended to all the students and teachers from the chosen universities for taking part in the survey and sparing their precious time.

Finally, at home front, I am indebted to the unconditional support of my parents. It is their trust and patience which always boosted my self-confidence and inspired me to move ahead.

Thanks are due to my sister Milan and niece Bhavika for their utmost care and moral support, especially during the last phase of my thesis writing. I would like to express my great appreciation to my life partner Anil for all his selfless efforts. His patient listening and logical advice always compelled me to think and look towards my research work from a different perspective.
