

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I want to express my deep sense of gratitude to Prof. Souvik Bhattacharyya, Vice-Chancellor, BITS Pilani, for making me available all the necessary facilities for the successful completion of the study.

I am highly grateful to Prof. Sudhir Kumar Barai, Director, BITS Pilani, Pilani campus, for his inspiration. My pleasant duty is to thank Prof. Jitendra Panwar, Associate Dean, Academic Graduate Studies and Research Division (AGSRD), for his constant encouragement.

I want to express my deepest gratitude to my supervisor Dr. A.K Vaish, and co-supervisor Prof. NVM Rao for their motivation, invaluable guidance, and support throughout the study. Without their direction and contribution, this thesis would never have been completed. Their constant counselling and inspiration enabled me to look forward in the right direction.

I am thankful to Prof. A.K. Giri (Head, Department of Economics and Finance) for providing a positive academic work environment. I am also grateful to all the faculty members and research scholars of the department for their support and encouragement. I am incredibly thankful to Prof. Sailaja Nandigama and Prof. AK Giri for their encouragement throughout this journey and for providing valuable input as Doctoral Advisory Committee members.

Finally, at the home front, I am at a loss of words in expressing profound thanks to my parents, particularly my father, Mr. Rajiv Saigal, who had undoubted confidence in my endeavors and bestowed upon me the courage to face the complexities of life and complete my work successfully. I would not have completed this project without the understanding, encouragement, and patience of my mother, Mrs. Nisha Saigal. I want to express a heartfelt appreciation to my husband, Mr. Manu Sharma, who has been my greatest strength throughout this journey. He has continuously reassured me that my efforts would eventually fructify and supported me emotionally during difficult times. An unfeigned vote of thanks is extended to my friend, Ms. Pratibha Saini, without whose sincere support this journey could not have been completed. I am also grateful to my parents-in-law for motivating me to pursue my dreams and supporting me in all ways possible to ensure my success.

I feel indebted to my brother and all my friends for their support. They were always there throughout the ups and downs of this entire project. I thank the supporting staff of the Department of Economics and Finance - Mr. Suresh, for his help.
